A BACK IS BORN. Little Greco, tiny Warren speed merchant, saw action in the Olean game, and swivel hipped himself to a pair of scores. Here he makes a nice gain with the help of some fancy blocking.

THERE HE IS AGAIN. You could almost set the camera on a tripod and aim it at this point in the line. In the course of the afternoon Mr. Mohney usually comes through for a counter. Here he picks up the first one against Olean, after Jack Shattuck had bulled to the one.

NOT QUITE. Jack Shattuck tries the center of the Olean line and is stopped one yard short of six points.

Flood Problems Again Face Warren Council

Residents of Glade were present when the Warren council met Monday, and expressed concern about the performance of Glade Run. Council also discussed the Indian Run problem. Both overflowed their banks during the recent hurricane.

It was estimated by the engineer that a project to correct Indian Run would cost $38,200. The cost for Glade Run was set at $87,500. This, he said, could be assessed against the neighboring property owners.

Council probably will contact Harrisburg to see what can be done. Judging by other projects of a similar nature very close to Warren, and one involving Glade Run, the state will dredge the channel and build up the banks, if a channel right-of-way is provided.

This is why neither of these streams has been corrected. If councilmen will check the records they will find that the merry-go-round has been well discussed and you will be awarded the brass ring when you find the property owners who don't want to be paid to be relieved from a flood.

While this excitement over two small streams brings visitors to our council chambers every time the waters get a bit wild, no one seems perturbed about the fact that only a few inches or feet more protection on the dikes along the West Side river banks might prevent millions of dollars worth of loss. And such an addition easily could be found in the excavations and truck-loads of commercial residence looking for a place to be deposited.

THAT'S OUR BOY. Mohney romps around right end. The triple threat Warren back added another threat against Olean. He kicked the extra points.

GOING NOWHERE. Here is an Olean back trying to skirt his left end. Warren tacklers are closing in from all sides. Warren's first string completely stifled the Olean attack, and the reserves did almost as well.

A direct flow of flood waters at the better than sixteen foot level would move every home and plant in the West Side!

Council also heard the assessments read for paving of several streets this summer. The total cost and the footage price for each read: Crescent Park, $31,587.97 and

GROAN. Some of the boys from the team of 1924 line up for a play after being introduced individually between halves of the home-coming game. They had the pleasure of seeing a great Warren team annihilate Olean, 27 to 6. It could have been twice that, but Coach Bell was kind to the visitors. Besides, his boys needed a rest after bruising games with Meadville and Bradford, both of which they also won.

$7.82; Main ave., $3,991.59 and $6.03; Lexington ave., $34,607.76 and $7.71; Morrison st., $10,413.70 and $8.26; Buchanan st. sewer, $3,308.09 and $2.62.

Presenting Jerome Hines....The Junior Chamber of Commerce will open its concert series by presenting Jerome Hines, Metropolitan Opera Basso, Saturday evening at 8:30 p. m. in the Woman's Club auditorium. The six foot six inch singer returned in September from extensive European and South American tours, during which he appeared as guest artist at the Vienna State Opera, Buenos Aires'

Teatro Colon, the Clydebournne Festival and the Edinburgh Festival. Mr. Hines has been heard by both TV and radio audiences on such programs as "Toast of the Town" and "The Voice of Firestone". In his program Saturday evening will be selections composed by Haydn, Mozart, Brahms, Schubert, Rossini and other great song writers.

NEW PONTIAC. The 1955 Pontiac Star Chief Four-door pictured here has a new 180 h.p. V-8 engine. Also publicized are claims of 109 new features, including a completely new body, featuring the increased glass area windshield, and two-toning.

STILL CLIMBING. The Red Feather thermometer on the Warren Bank and Trust Company climbs slowly, but it climbs. It says the Community Chest is a little over the eighty per cent mark. It should reach the $59,000 goal by next week.

LOOKING AHEAD. Girls of Troop 4 were busily engaged last week in making preparations for the annual nut sale conducted by the Girl Scouts of Warren County. Mrs. Vance Weld and Mrs. A. E. Soderholm will lend adult advice to the program. The mixed nuts (no peanuts, thank you) are supplied in bulk by the Buffalo Nut Shops, Inc. and packaged in half and pound sacks to sell at 75 cents and $1.50 each, respectively. Local troops will receive ten cents per pound if money is received prior to the deadlines and seven cents per pound for latecomers. The profits realized by the county council will be used for repairs to Camp Birdsall Edey. The girls who are looking to the future for better camping facilities are (left to right) Norma Sponsler, Dorothy Mathyer, Sally Dickerson, Marsha Rader and Gayle Nosel. The leader of their troop is Mrs. Walter Mathyer.

COUNTY EIGHT AND FORTY OFFICERS INSTALLED. The formal installation of officers of the Warren County Salon 405, Eight and Forty, was held at a dinner meeting in the YWCA activities building, Wednesday, October 20. Mrs. Frazier of Erie presided at the installation and advised that the Eight and Forty program will emphasize service to children suffering from tuberculosis. Pictured, left to right, are the following: Effie Speidel, LaDemi Petit Chapeau Deuxieme; Mrs. J.

S. Juiliante, Erie, Department Rehabilitation chairman; Mary A'-Harrah, Pouvoir Representative; Phyllis Epstein, LaDemi Petit Chapeau Premier; Mrs. A. M. Frazier, Erie, Pennsylvania Salon Departmental Eight and Forty; Dorothy Peterson, La Cassiere; Mary Johnson, Chapeau; Florence Mourer, LaSecretaire; Elizabeth Shepard, L'Aumonier; and Henrietta Landers, L'Archiviste. Ruth Hawthorth, L'Concierge, was absent when the picture was taken.

FUTURE INSTRUCTORS. The first aid class for advanced students is being conducted at Red Cross headquarters on Monday evenings by Eugene Brown. This week, with a background of air raid signals to make the scene more realistic, the enthusiasts discussed the use of first aid in times of emergency. William Fuellhart, Warren County director of civilian defense, reported that the evacuation of Warren citizens held earlier in the evening was a complete success. "I'm quite elated", Mr. Fuellhart added, "We hoped for 125 evacuees and actually had 110." He stated that it took only four minutes for the fourteen stations in the county to be informed of the statewide alert that coincided with the local maneuvers. Evacuation of the injured is simulated in the picture as (left to right) Fred Watt, Warren; Mrs. Ruth Freude, Kinzua; Stanley Deshner, Youngsville; Bruce Harding, Warren; Mrs. Lois Pierson and Dale Shaffer of Youngsville, carry Mrs. Jean Young of Youngsville on a stretcher. The graduates of the class will receive Red Cross certificate entitling them to conduct classes in their home communities. Mr. Fuellhart commended the class and remarked, "Civil defense is first aid and first aid is civil defense".

This special note is for all my customers -- all my friends and all my prospective customers.

Please turn to page 5 of this paper and see pictured what I actually saw being manufactured at the General Electric Plant in Erie, Pa.

Yes, I saw with my own eyes this beautiful General Electric Refrigerator in the process of being manufactured and when I saw just how particular General Electric engineers were in selecting each and every part that goes into the famous General Electric Refrigerator - Freezer Combination I couldn't help but wonder why anyone should even consider or think about any Refrigerator other than General Electric.

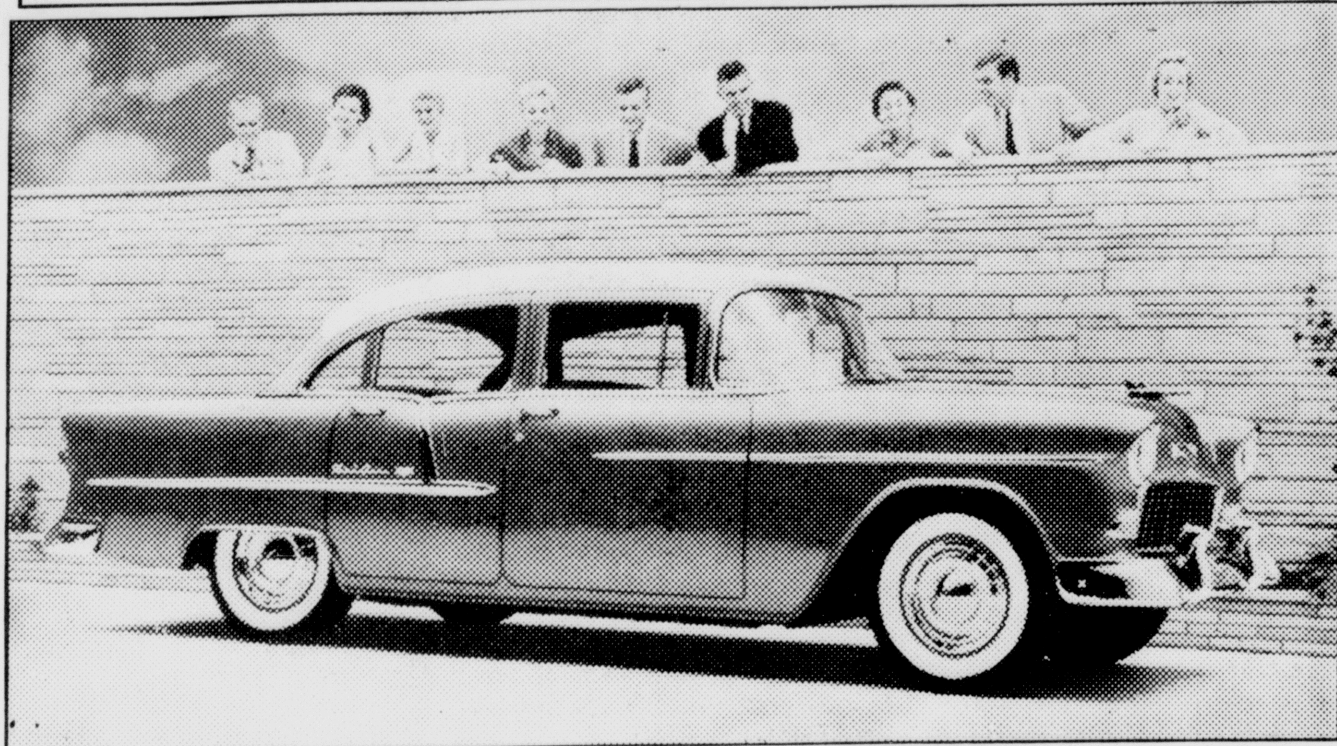

Now you can purchase this same kind of Refrigerator with the same features, with one door instead of two -- and at a Big Saving too.

Turn to page 5 of this paper and see the 2 in 1 Refrigerator - Freezer Food Locker with automatic defrosting refrigerator. I hope that every reader of this note will give me the opportunity to show them the wonderful features built into the General Electric Refrigerator - Freezer Combinations.

Hope to See You Soon,

V8 Power, Complete Re-styling Mark Chevrolets

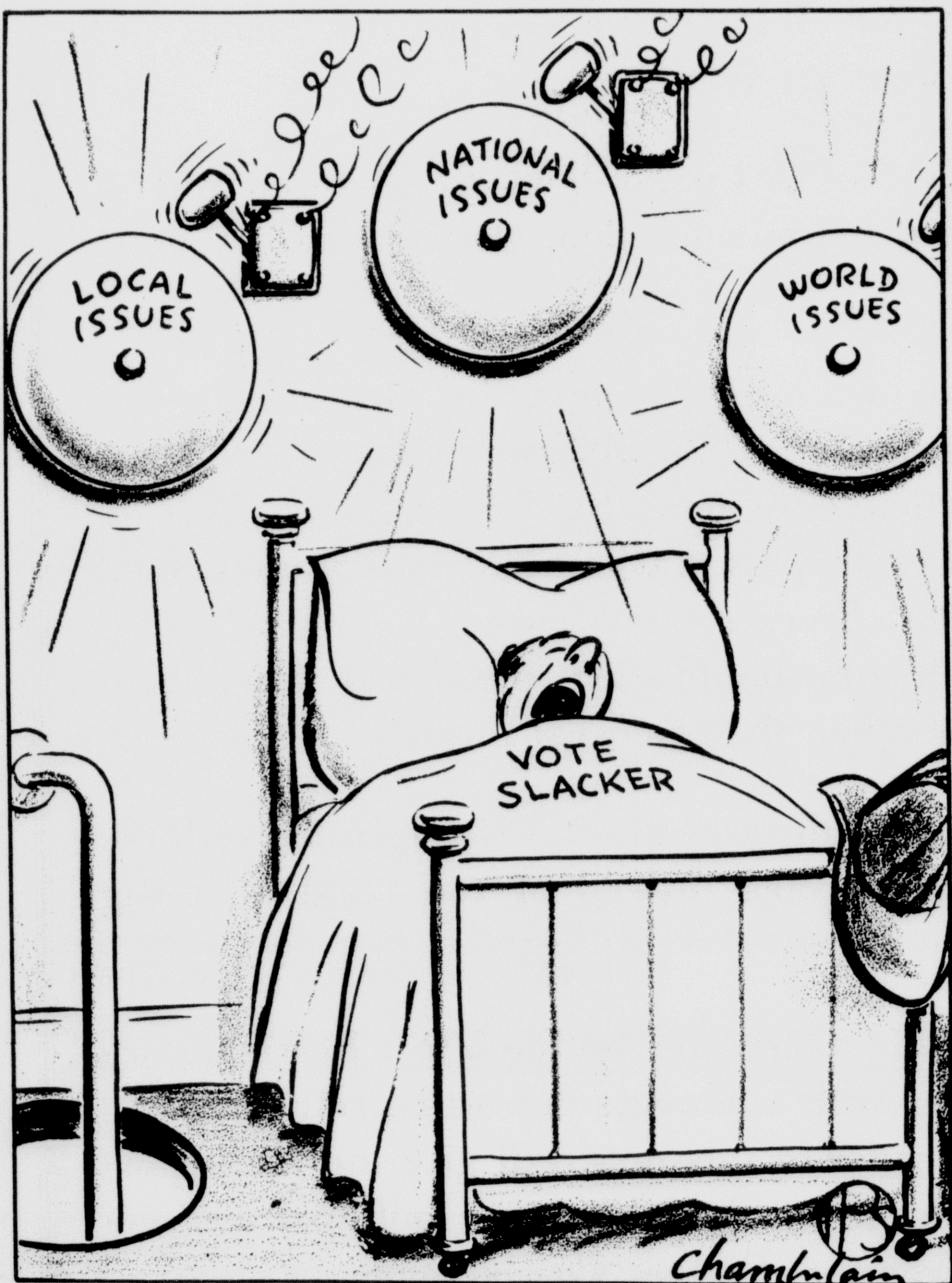

A styling advance from any point of view is claimed by the company for 1955 Chevrolets. The latest lineup of 14 models has been completely restyled and in addition incorporates the widest array of chassis improvements ever offered by Chevrolet on a new model. Lower, fleetier lines are accompanied by new frames, new suspensions, new operating devices and new power. With the optional Powerglide or overdrive and new V8 engine plus two six-cylinder engines, a customer has a choice of six "power packages." The Bel Air 4-door sedan is pictured above.

WAKE UP—IT'S A 3-ALARM FIRE!

Your Vote Counts!

Local issues, state and national issues—and, because of our world leadership, world issues—will be decided at the polls on November 2.

Whatever else you may do on that day, VOTE FIRST! In this important year of decision, don't be a vote slacker!

Many elections have been settled by margins of one vote per precinct, or less.

A single vote certainly does count—and it might be your vote!

Asides.....

The Boat Trip taken by Cub Pack 47 last summer will be seen in the November issue of Boys Life, on the Scout World page. The Home Street school group's picture was seen in the May 20 issue of this paper.

Big

That NuWay store at the foot of Market st. is being classified as the biggest in the chain. Curbstone talk says the new manager probably will be Robert Giese, now manager of the East Aurora store.

No Hurry

The reason those Community Chest figures are slow adding up is not that people will not give. The workers are in no hurry about getting their rounds made and the returns in. When they have completed that task the figure will be up where it belongs.

What Gives

Proof that our civil defense warning system is inadequate can be found on the streets when the fire engine sirens let loose. The most commonly heard statement is, "What's going on?"

But proof that publicity and much work on the part of defense chiefs is paying off is the usual answer, "Probably a defense drill".

The job now is to remove the question so there will be no doubt.

Horror Comics were thoroughly discussed by Miss Georgia Spinney at a meeting sponsored by the Young Mothers' Study club held in the Warren Public Library, Wednesday evening. Representatives from eighteen of forty-five organizations invited attended the meeting at which they decided to take effective steps toward eliminating horror comic circulations in Warren. Mrs. Margaret Mathis acted as temporary chairman.

Miss Spinney reported that her interest in horror comic eradication was aroused through reading Dr. Frederick Wertham's book, "Seduction of the Innocent".

State Offices Command Major Election Interest

When registered citizens of Warren County visit the polls on Tuesday, November 2, they will be offered the opportunity of choosing the officials to serve them in Harrisburg and Washington for the next two or four years. The campaign has centered its interest in state issues, for the most part, as the opposing parties vie for public support. The polls will open from 7 a. m. through 8 p. m.

Candidates for Governor are as follows: Lloyd H. Wood, Republican; George M. Leader, Democratic; Henry Beitscher, Progressive; and Louis Dirle, Socialist Labor.

Candidates for Lieutenant Governor: Frank F. Truscott, Republican; Roy E. Furman, Democratic; Frances I. Miller, Prohibition; Alexander Wright, Progressive; and Frank Knotek, Socialist Labor.

Candidates for Secretary of Internal Affairs: Gaynelle M. Dixon, Republican; Genevieve Blatt, Democratic; Elizabeth P. Frazier, Progressive; and Thomas Grady, Socialist Labor.

Candidates for Judge of Superior Court: Robert E. Woodside, Republican and Democratic; Ralph T. Bell, Republican; George W. Griffith, Republican; Chester H. Rhodes, Democratic; F. Clair Ross, Democratic; and Charles Palmer, Prohibition.

Candidates for Representative in Congress - Twenty-third District: Leon H. Gavin, Republican and Fred C. Barr, Democratic.

Candidates for Senator in the General Assembly - Fourth-eighth District: Leroy E. Chapman, Republican and George M. O'Hara, Democratic.

Candidates for Representative in the General Assembly: Allen M. Gibson, Republican and Lewis L. Crippen, Democratic.

'Trick or Treat' An Old Custom

The children's "trick or treat" custom on Hallowe'en dates back to 17th century Ireland, when peasants sought, at the doors of the wealthy, luxuries for a feast. The idea of the householder forestalling a prankish "trick" by coming across with a "treat" of candies or cookies is, however, strictly our own.

The goings-on of the last evening of October originally were to mark the end of summer, but all sorts of weird and mystic rituals concerned with witches, demons, imps and such got mixed into the Druidic show. Spurning the pagan connotations, the early Christians adopted both the "e'en" and the day which followed—All Hallow's, or All Saints Day.

"These days it's hard to tell whether you're walking behind a man who needs a haircut, or a woman who's just got one."—Richard Hayman.

"As we grow older, we find that the best time for a cold shower is some other time."—Pipe Dreams.

"A boy's growing up when he'd rather steal a kiss than second base."—Margaret Puchir.

"The hardest thing on a woman's clothes is another woman."—Derek Wingrave.

COUNTY NEWS in brief . . .

Tragedy Struck on Beech st., Warren, early the afternoon of Friday, October 22, when Deborah Anne, three year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll N. Walstrom, 825 Fourth ave., was instantly killed in a fall from a moving vehicle. Deborah and her playmate, Milton Goerlich, 4, were hanging to a rail on the right side of a truck of the Valentine Disposal Company as it was parked at the curb on Beech st. Gail Fitch, 18, of Sheffield, entered the truck on the driver's side, started the motor and began to pull ahead. The little boy leaped to safety before the truck was moving but Deborah held on too long and was thrown to the pavement by the momentum of the large rear wheel, suffering a fractured skull.

Fifteen to Fifty-five years of teaching in the Warren Presbyterian Sunday school were honored at a dinner meeting held Monday evening. Harold Hampson paid tribute to the following teachers who have retired from active teaching: Tracy Greenlund and E. H. Beshlin each of whom have taught more than fifty years; Miss Gertrude Slater, Mrs. R. H. Winger, Mrs. George Craft, Miss Martha Swick, Mrs. H. L. Banghart, and Mrs. R. W. Stone.

Dr. G. Mason Cochran of Oil City was the featured speaker. Recognition of the present teaching staff was managed by Dr. Robert S. Steen with Miss Emma Kolfrat, Miss Camilla Henderson, and Mrs. O. A. Pressel receiving special mention. E. R. Sanford was emcee for the program.

Witches and Hobgoblins will be very much in evidence when the Halloween parade, sponsored by the Jaycees, for the children of Warren County forms at the Spot Saturday night at 6:30. Marching will start promptly at 7 p. m. with spirited music being furnished by the Warren JC clown band, American Legion drum and bugle corps, and the Warren high school band.

Three divisions are planned: children through eight years of age; nine through twelve; over thirteen. Prizes in each group will be 25 bond for first, $10 cash for second and $5 cash for third. A $10 cash award will be presented to the art students doing the best job of window painting in store windows. The parade route: From the Spot down Liberty to Second, West to Hickory, North to Fourth, East to Market, South to Third, West to Liberty and back to the Spot. No parking will be allowed on Liberty between Third and Fourth.

Youngsville Was Saddened Tuesday evening when Mrs. Mary Black, 93, was struck by a Greyhound bus and instantly killed on West Main st. Mrs. Black, beloved by the entire community, was visiting Mrs. Elsie Whitmore and as she left to return to the home of her son, J. L. Black at 115 Second st., where she resided, she darted directly into the path of the oncoming vehicle.

A Public Ceremony will be held in the Warren county court room, at two o'clock, the afternoon of November 3, that should be of interest to all who are interested in positive steps toward a solution to problems related to our young people. At that time the application for a charter and approval of the articles of corporation of the Warren County Probation Association will be presented. Restrictions will be removed to allow news pictures and broadcasting. Judge Alexander C. Flick, who has played a major role in preparing the groundwork for this Association, will preside.

The Warren Players' twenty-fifth year got off to a rousing start with capacity audiences attending both performances of "My Three Angels", which were presented under the capable supervision of Byron Knapp last week. Requests for tickets to both showings so far exceeded the seating capacity that many of the group are seriously considering three nights instead of two in the near future.

Reckless Driving Charges were preferred against two county men by Warren borough police after investigations of two separate accidents.

Walter Kiser, Warren-Kinzua road, was arrested after the car he was driving hit a car owned by Jack Bean and drove it into a vehicle owned by John C. Smith. The Bean and Smith cars were parked in front of their residence at 1907 Pennsylvania ave. E. The accident which happened at 6:47 p. m., Tuesday, caused damages totaling $1800 and injured Kiser sufficiently to place him in the Warren general hospital.

Lawrence W. McNamara, 304 Pennsylvania ave. E., received a fractured left leg, when struck by an automobile being driven by Lyle Westfall, Star Route, Irvine, as he was crossing Market st. Mr. Westfall reported he had stopped for the Pennsylvania ave. traffic light, turned left at the green signal, and struck McNamara because steamed windows restricted his vision. Westfall was arrested.

Retired School Director, L. D. Anderson, was honored at the Scandia school Friday evening, October 22 for his thirty-six years service to Elk twp. Five other retired directors joined with the present board, teachers, county superintendent and assistant, and the public in recognizing Mr. Anderson's unselfish contribution to the district. The six retired members represented 115 years of community service. Mr. Anderson's son, David, has been appointed to complete his father's term of office.

County Daisy Sales totaled $327.21, according to an incomplete report given by Mrs. Mary Dickerson at the most recent meeting of the Lions club. Youngsville contributed $120.85; Sheffield, $60.10; Sugar Grove, $91 plus $25 from the Sugar Grove Lions Club; Miscellaneous - $30.26.

The State School Directors will convene in Harrisburg, November 5 and 6. Mrs. Harriette Courson, Deerfield twp., will be the county delegate. Mrs. Allene Briggs, Sugar Grove, district representative on the state executive committee; Mrs. Hazel Kay, Lander, regional legislative chairman; and John Mallory, county superintendent as well as other local school directors will attend.

Jurors To Report November 8 for court of Common Pleas were announced this week by Sheriff L. E. Linder's office:

The Apple Dessert Champ of Warren County, Ruth Ann Peterson of Youngsville high school, has returned from her trip to York, Pa. where she competed against twenty-six other contestants for the apple dessert championship of Pennsylvania. It was a thrilling experience for Ruth as she spent her first night in a hotel and was selected by Acting State Agricultural Secretary Hager as the one girl in the group to open her gift, a Pennsylvania Dutch designed perfume burner, for the others to see. The contest was sponsored by the Apple Growers Association of Pennsylvania. Miss Peterson was accompanied by her instructor Mrs. Evelyn Overturf and Principal Jesse Lyon. She did not place in the first three.

Life In Australia was interestingly described by Miss Edna Glasser, the Chord Cadets presented several selections, and an announcement was made that a Cub pack is being reorganized on the South Side as contributions to the successful "Fathers' Night" meeting of the Seneca PTA held Wednesday, October 20. Mrs. Punskey and Mrs. Archie Campbell were elected as alternate delegates to the community council.

Dr. Milton Eisenhower, president of Pennsylvania State University, will be the principal speaker at the 82nd annual sessions of the Pennsylvania State Grange being held at Washington, Pa., October 26-28. Dr. Eisenhower's topic will be, "Moral Issues in the Present World Struggle". E. Leo Johnson of Youngsville who has been the Assistant Steward in the state organization, the only County man serving on the state executive committee, will have his term expire with this gathering.

The Home Street Gra-Y met in the school auditorium, Monday afternoon and chose the following officers: Billy Sedwick, president, Burt Bliss, vice-president, Bruce McCarty, secretary, and Tom Gaghan, treasurer. James Redding was selected to captain the basketball team which will start preparing for the coming season on November 20 at a basketball clinic.

The Gra-Y league, of which the Home Street team is champion, will start November 27.

An All-day Show of International trucks will be held at the Simones and Cook auto repair shop on Biddle st., ext., Thursday, November 4. A convoy of eleven trucks, representing different types and styles which will be available under this new agency, will arrive Wednesday in preparation for the all-day showing. The public is urged to take advantage of this offer of seeing the trucks which will be sold by the men with thirty years experience, Fred Simones and Van Cook.

BUYERS' CORNER

A Good Buy

One of the best buys an American enjoys costs him nothing. He has the right to good government. He pays for the government, he finances its expenses, he provides the money for officials to spend.

But the average American does nothing about deciding who is going to spend it. He fails to make a choice. He apparently does not care who spends his tax money or how it is spent.

If he did he would vote. It costs him nothing. He is stockholder in a democracy and takes no part in its operation. He cries but does nothing to correct the ills about which he complains. He has a right for which men have died and which is the envy of over half the world population. And he doesn't appreciate it enough to utilize it.

The world looks to us for leadership. But our leadership will be only as good as the people make it. And the people do not even vote. In Warren county, with a population of over 40,000, it is doubtful if more than 12,000 will vote at next Tuesday's election. In fact, that would be good.

Will you be one of those who visit the polls? Or are you a crier and not a doer?

A good buy is good government. And the choice is free!

Hospital Joins Blue Cross

The Warren General hospital now is a member hospital of the Blue Cross. Though this may not sound like much difference to those who have this insurance, it does mean that hospital bills will be paid direct, and that full service benefits will be enjoyed.

Speed Control

With speed the major cause of accidents, perhaps the public should be thinking about a demand for controls of a mechanical nature. One of these now is being manufactured by the Automotive Speed Control corporation, in Boston. It can be installed in ten minutes; can be set to limit a car to any designated ceiling of speed; can be locked in by a tamper-proof lock; does not interfere with normal acceleration and hill climbing below the set speed, and is made of noiseless nylon, requiring no lubrication.

The cost is only $20, and if we cannot force manufacturers to place them on their cars, perhaps we could make it a part of the penalty for those who are habitual violators. If they violate traffic laws, make it necessary for them to pay for the cost of installing one of these controls. There are some cowboy jockeys around Warren county on whom this would look good.

Bond Buying Jumps

Government bond sales did a jet take-off in Warren county last month. This probably wasn't the actual sales of one month, but the accumulation of unreported sales, making up for some of those poorer ones last summer. We bought about $92,000 worth, compared with the $62,000 of September 1953. About fifty per cent up.

Stevenson In 1956?

By Thomas L. Stokes

WASHINGTON -- President Eisenhower's participation in the Congressional campaign has been matched by that of his unsuccessful rival of 1952, both as to scope and intensity. Each, as well, has a similar stake looking to 1956.

Adlai Stevenson is following the President by winding up his campaigning in New York and New Jersey after a rigorous schedule in the Far West, along the Pacific Coast, and back in his own Middle West.

As well as doing a chore for his party, Stevenson also has been keeping the fires bright on many hillsides in a personal chore for himself, which is to win renomination in 1956 as his party's Presidential candidate. He not only has kept himself before the public while outlining the issues of the campaign as he sees them, but has been brushing up his contacts with local political leaders who will have much to say in the national convention less than two years from now.

At the same time, he and his close circle of advisors have been pondering a problem which lies immediately ahead. That relates to the sort of role he should, or can, play in the months before the 1956 convention in the face of two obvious handicaps:

1. He does not occupy public office and therefore lacks the forum which public office offers, an advantage enjoyed by a number of Senators and Governors who may be regarded as aspirants also for the nomination.

2. Political interest naturally will be concentrated on Congress, as is usual between elections. The leadership of the party there will be making the issues and writing the record. This includes the Presidential hopefuls who have at their command all the facilities of publicity which Congress and their positions afford.

The problem revolving about Congress exists whether Democrats win control in the coming election or not, so far as Adlai Stevenson is concerned. But it will be more difficult and delicate, both for him and the party, if the Democrats control Congress. The party then would be responsible and on the spot. It must conduct itself in a divided government in such a manner that it can not be charged with obstructing the President, who is a Republican, and a President who is still extremely popular.

How much of a part will Adlai Stevenson play in decisions as to the party's course for the next two years or, put another way, how much of a part will he be able or permitted to play? That will be, indeed, a test of his leadership. The party in Congress, it should be stressed, is dominated by its Southern wing. If the party should win control at next week's election, Southerners will occupy key offices, such as Speaker of the House and Majority Leader of the Senate -- as well as the bulk of committee chairmanships.

The Southern wing, as is known, is cool to the more liberal wing of the party with which Adlai Stevenson is identified, when not actually hostile. The 1952 candidate has the same problem that the Eastern, moderately progressive wing of the Republican party always had between elections when the Middle West conservative wing was dominant in Congress. That was personalized for a long time in Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, the outsider, and the late Senator Robert Taft of Ohio and his following in Congress. Tom Dewey, however, always had the benefit of a forum of his own as Governor of New York during all those years.

He and the Eastern wing did all right at conventions always. Similarly, Adlai Stevenson will find a more agreeable atmosphere in such assemblages representing the whole country, for there the Southern influence is a minority one, even if noisy. But, before the national convention comes, comes Congress for two years.

Adlai Stevenson's awareness of his peculiar problem has been manifest in overtures to the South by both him and his friend, Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell, since the 1952 election. Their conciliatory gestures seem to have been fruitful.

As of now, the 1952 candidate is regarded as the odds-on favorite for the 1956 nomination among party leaders across the nation. It is Stevenson against the field. His position in the South appears favorable if advices received by this reporter are correct that Senator Richard B. Russell of Georgia, who had the support of most Southern delegations at the start of the 1952 convention, now regards the Stevenson renomination as the wisest course for the party. For a time Senator Stuart Symington of Missouri had been regarded as the possible legatee of the Russell support. Senator Lyndon Johnson of Texas, Senate Democratic leader, would like to become the South's favorite son. Perhaps the principal handicap of another aspirant for the nomination, Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, was the lack of real support from the South. He is in the running again.

Though the convention is still many months off, you can be sure that 1956 Presidential nomination politics will begin to buzz among the Democrats as soon as the Congressional elections are decided and over next week, and with more than usual zest, too, if Democrats win control of Congress.

"Did We Have ENOUGH Fire Insurance?"

When that question is asked after a disastrous fire, it generally refers to the amount of insurance carried on the dwelling.

But "enough" insurance can also refer to the contents of the home.....to the household effects, workshop tools, valuable personal items. All need coverage.

LET THERE BE SELZNICK
 Two hours is an awful long time to fill a television screen, TV fans being bred for shorter distances, and the particular triumph of David O. Selznick's "Light's Diamond Jubilee" is that it made the time seem much shorter than that.

This two-hour show on four networks and hundreds of independent stations — the only way you could avoid it was to turn the set off and read a book, God forbid — was the noted film producer's first stab at television and Mr. Selznick assembled an awe-inspiring list of co-workers to help out. Joseph Cotton did a very able job of narration. Ben Hecht was nominally the author of the script but he dipped liberally into the works of other noted writers such as John Steinbeck, Irwin Shaw, Max Shulman, Abraham Lincoln and whoever wrote the Old Testament which provided the opening line "In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth .... And God said: 'Let there be light' and there was light."

After this rather solemn beginning, Hecht in a lighter vein showed that some of the wonders of the age of electricity were not unmixed blessings, a bit of impudence that demonstrated right at the outset that neither Selznick nor Hecht was going to spend the two hours doing obeisance to the electric light people no matter who was paying the bills.

The central theme was a paean to American individualism and occasionally Hecht's philosophy got a little boozy. As an early example of rugged individualism, there was a filmed reconstruction of that celebrated bit of "Tom Sawyer" where Tom gets his friends to do his work for him.

The rest of the show was a potpourri of drama, song, sketches, monologues — mostly dedicated to the proposition that America is a pretty nice place to live but that Americans take this fact with great good humor. There was a seven-minute old Robert Benchley short on how to care for a baby, as funny a bit as the old master ever did.

One of Irwin Shaw's best stories, "Girls In Their Summer Dresses," was dramatized — no easy task, by the way — and very charmingly played by Lauren Bacall and David Niven. There was a tribute to the American public school system, which at the moment doesn't deserve it, and to the colleges, in which Eddie Fisher sang "The Sweetheart of Sigma Chi" and some other songs.

The funniest bit of all was a monologue in which George Gobel tried to explain the workings of an electronic brain — just about the funniest monologue I've heard since Robert Benchley's "Treasurer's Report." As the show moved into its second hour, Helen Hayes and Thomas Mitchell, a couple of real experts, played a bit about a couple of country folk who collect an inheritance from her Uncle Hardtack in which Miss Hayes had a perfectly wonderful hangover scene and Dorothy Dandridge sang some wonderful songs — Cole Porter's "You Do Something To Me" and George Gershwin's "A Foggy Day In London Town."

There was a decidedly tongue-in-cheek salute to the scientists who are going to bequeath us a lot of gadgets in the world of tomorrow, not all of which we're going to love. The closing dramatic bit was one of John Steinbeck's most touching stories about a pioneer who had crossed the prairies in a covered wagon and now, on the shores of the Pacific, felt there was no place further to explore and consequently nothing really to live for. The show closed with a little filmed speech by President Eisenhower on a note of affirmation. It closed in the nick of time before Mr. Hecht's sentimentality got completely out of hand.

My only objection to the show is that there was a little too much of everything in it, a complaint that could be directed at a lot of TV shows these days. Television, it seems to me, is in about the phase the talkies were in back around 1929 when they were producing things like "Show of Shows" which contained everything from Rin Tin Tin to John Barrymore declaiming bits of "Richard III," the idea being to overpower you with sheer quantity.

One thing the show did not have, thank heaven, was a dramatization of Thomas Edison's discovery of the electric light. All week long on all the other shows, actors were happily inventing the electric light and by the end of the week I thought they ought to pass on to other things like inventing, maybe, the phonograph or the telephone.

Big Election Coverage

Whether you listen to radio or watch television, you should learn Tuesday evening who is going to control the 84th Congress. CBS, for example, is teaming up its radio and television facilities to provide complete coverage, starting at 9 p. m. This coverage will last until the control question is settled.

Such commentators as Edward R. Murrow will be heard and seen on this network, and interspersed will be the local slants provided by the carrying station. In the case of CBS this will be Buffalo's WBEN for most viewers.

However, the other networks will not be denied their spot in the news of the day, and if you don't vote on Tuesday, you certainly are going to be a spectator. If the wrong side wins, as far as you are concerned, you will deserve every squirm.

Good and Bad

The Tender Trap, one of the new stage plays now showing in New York, and in which a former Warren man, Clint Wilder, is interested, is enjoying both good and bad reviews. Time magazine last week spent three paragraphs telling about the better side and one in which it slapped the production around. But even the Wall Street Journal, which knows where a dollar is made, has a complimentary word for the effort, and movieland is expected to be sufficiently interested to take over after the play has proved itself with a reasonable New York run.

New Antenna

This may not be new to many of you, but there no doubt are some who are willing to try most anything if it will get them better TV reception. We are told that a dead bulb, of about 1000 watts capacity, makes a good antenna. Just lead your wire into a socket, mount it on a pole, screw in the dead bulb, and see what happens. Worth a try? We understand they are widely used in some areas.

The problem.....find a dead 1000 watt bulb.

Big Evening

It looks like a mighty pleasant evening for the limited audience which will crowd into the Woman's Club, Saturday night, to hear Jerome Himes, Metropolitan Opera bass. This is the first of the season's concert series, sponsored by the Warren Junior Chamber of Commerce. It starts at 8:30.

To be heard will be selections by Haydn, Durante, Mozart, Brahms, Schubert, Rossini, Boito, Faure, Debussy, Duparc and Holmes.

Quite a cross-section of classics, and a very ambitious program.

Other concert series attractions this year are the Victor Herbert Festival, January 21, and the Continental Aires, a negro male quartet, on March 30.

In addition the Jaycees are trying to have a jazz concert, and will spend up to $1500 to obtain a top ranking band. This will be an extra, with tickets sold especially for it, and with the Library theatre as the site.

Area Sports . . .

Dragons Coast

The score read Warren, 27, Olean, 6, and they did it in one half, with the reserves taking over the last two quarters. Stunned on the north bench sat the Olean squad which up to then was quite confident of itself. Amazed in the south stands were Warren fans who had not seen the Dragon offense really click all season. Fully at home on the south bench was the team of 1924, which we believe would readily admit it never played any better. Certainly this would be true of Chick Eaton, '24 linesman, whose son was centering for the winners.

From the opening two plays when Jack Shattuck gained fifty yards it was all Warren. When Mohny scored a touchdown on the third play and was called back because of a backfield in motion, it made little difference. Soon they were back at the goal and Mohny went over from the one.

Shattuck added another one and Greco, a new speedster who got in the game because of injuries to Mahaffey, collected two, one on a beautiful open field 62-yard gallop. Mohny did the booting and collected three extra points.

Olean got its score against the reserves, but was unable to chase the seconds out of the game. The regulars enjoyed a rest they had coming, and injuries to key men such as Viola, Mahaffey, and Rose were given healing time.

Olean played a waiting game that doesn't pay in this aggressive sport. It was outthrustled on all sides, with its backs so hampered by rushing Dragons that a pass usually meant a long loss, with only three leaving the fingers of the Olean flinger.

Now it is Erie Tech, on War Memorial Field, Saturday, at 1:30. The comparative scores say Warren will win, and it will if it continues to play as it has in the last few games.

In The Area

Northern Area tied Westfield for the Northwestern Conference lead, Saturday, by beating Cassadaga Valley, 26 to 6.

Sheffield looks like a sure thing for the Allegheny Mountain title, helped by a 13 to 6 victory over Coudersport.

And Youngsville continued to win them, this time in the last minute of play, 27 to 25, over Smethport.

Meadville returned to form, 34 to 12, over Sharpville. Titusville set Kane back, 20 to 6. DuBois uprooted Ferndale, 39 to 13. Johnsonburg got by Emporium, 6 to 0. Otto Twp. beat St. Marys, 14 to 0.

Bradford squeaked one, 7 to 6, over Punxsutawney. Oil City surprised Millcreek, 7-7. Greenville leveled Grove City, 21 to 7.

North East completely unmasked Corry, 30 to 0! (Even as the Dragons could do right now, and maybe more so.)

Up Erie way, Academy took Strong Vincent, 39 to 14, in a second half parade. (Four touchdowns in five plays the last seven minutes.) New Castle buried East, 34 to 10. Prep, which looks like Erie's best, beat Tech, 24 to 0.

Big Jamestown found Niagara very rough and lost, 14 to 6. Dunkirk, another Warren opponent, lost to Kenmore, 31 to 13.

Aliquippa took Sharon, 19 to 12.

Short Pitch-Outs

Something New has been added to the Warren YMCA swimming team. Louise Culbertson, a very capable young lady in the water, may be in the line-up when the meets are held this winter.

Golf Champion of Oakmont is Fred Paine, who once served as assistant pro for Toby Lyons in Warren. Freddy turned amateur and remade his game under the direction of Henry Picard. Winning at Oakmont is a real credit to the big fellow who married Barb Johnson of Warren. They are riding herd on two future champs, one born this summer.

And Golf Lingers at Moon Brook, where Toby Lyons is having a tournament Sunday. Five will get you in, and include food for the day. You also get a handicap.

OBSERVATIONS

By Bob Walsh

It is time to talk of votes and polls, and prejudices, and things. Next Tuesday is the day we are supposed to choose our officials; some, like the governor, for four years, others, like the state assemblyman, for two.

The American voter is notorious for not using his right, but in Warren county it is almost understandable. So efficient is the Republican organization that there is little doubt of the outcome. Thus, many independents and Democrats don't bother to vote, and many more are not even registered. In turn there probably will be four or five thousand Republican registrants who won't vote because they are not perturbed about the possibilities of losing, or they are just registered that way to save face and lack the desire to cast a vote accordingly.

There have been better days for the Democrats. Even in the 1930's they had the registration about evened up, and there were some close elections. We may be hazy on this one, but we believe in one assembly race, about 1936, the Republican and Democrat both polled over 9,000 votes, and the GOP winner made it by a very slim margin.

But it started downhill, and has been backsliding for the Democrats ever since. There is need of good leadership and good candidates, plus an emphasis on issues that will excite the lethargetic.

The registration in Warren county now reads about 12,500 Republicans and about 4,000 Democrats. The vote Tuesday probably will find the Republican candidates averaging around 7,000 votes. The Democrats will be one side or other of the 4,000 total. The Democrats either are more faithful or attract more independent thinkers.

The best count in a governor's race in recent years was the 8,110 given Fine in 1950. Dilworth, his opponent, received 4,058. Dr. Chapman led the ticket that year with 8795 to Mr. Huckestein's 3495. Allen Gibson collected 8423 to Russell Crippen's 3760. This year he faces Lewis Crippen.

The best vote-getter for the Democrats in recent years has been Bill McGuckin. He got 4693 in the assembly race of 1948, but still lost by 3,000 to Mr. Gibson.

This percentage is not apt to change unless one side or the other becomes aware of the value of votes in the state election this fall. Perhaps the votes do not mean much locally, but there is a governor to elect and reports from the soundings suggest a possible change in Harrisburg. This suggests that all should take part if they are interested in the main go.

On a national scale the Observer columnists suggest it may be close in many states. The Democrats are very apt to gain a majority in the House, and it could happen in the Senate.

President Eisenhower has openly given his support to a very few candidates, such as Ives in New York. He has appeared on platforms and called Republican candidates his friends, but he has not endorsed them.

The social security changes and the segregation actions are the steps which Republicans hope will endear them to such groups as the negroes.

On the opposite side of the ledger is the failure of much progressive legislation. Many Congressmen may get slapped down for their reactionary records. The recession, so-called, may not lose the GOP many votes, but the apparent attitude toward unemployment and the favors in tax reductions for the high income bracket will alienate many voters.

The question seems to be — does Ike have enough popular appeal to beat an off-year loss by the "ins" who always are a target? We doubt it, because he won in 1952 by a very slim margin and with the help of a record vote. The nation-wide effort to sell a candidate like you would sell soap is lacking this fall. The record vote will not be repeated. The Democrats are apt to enjoy the benefit of such a situation.

It took a vote of nearly 34 million, over six million higher than any previous winner, to take it for President Eisenhower. The losing candidate, Adlai Stevenson, actually polled the third largest total ever received by a presidential candidate. But the big get-out-the-vote movement then faded away.

Not Enough Politics?

By Doris Fleenon

WASHINGTON -- Many people are dismissing the present boring campaign for control of Congress as "just politics." It is the reason, they say, that the voters are so apathetic.

The real trouble is lack of politics.

Neither party has produced a single new creative idea in the art in which they pretend to be the experts. So they parrot the old.

The cumulative result is the broken phonograph record effect. Of course it doesn't attract the customers.

The particular Republican chicken that is coming home to roost is that Republicans were not sufficiently united and determined to build a party organization which could take command of the government.

Their soldier-President could not lead them in this effort both because of his inexperience and because he has a Chief of State complex about the Presidency. Then he hindered them further by overbalancing his Cabinet and staff with people from one special interest group -- business. He took some errand boys from politics, but no strong men capable of enforcing party government.

Both parties are responsive to special interests. But a party whose President and principal politicians command the situation can balance the demands made upon them with the people's wants and come up with reasonably equitable and defensible solutions. Being in control, they can at the same time protect their political flanks.

The Democrats under Roosevelt, Ed Flynn as National Chairmen with such men as Jim Farley and Ed Flynn as National Chairmen and Congress dominated by Jack Garner, Sam Rayburn, Jimmy Byrnes and Alben Barkley, consistently achieved balance. The party slipped under Harry Truman, whose choice of lieutenants was often so excruciating it raised the corruption issue in its simplest, best understood form -- the deep freeze and the mink coat.

Even so, Truman's personal political astuteness was such that he kept the New Deal framework intact and slid back into the White House on its dying momentum.

The politicians cited above did not hate businessmen, they only considered them irrelevant. Perhaps they made more people rich than comparable Republican regimes -- but their politicians and not their fat cats fixed the government's policies.

This fall the imbalance of the Republican record is the Democrats' biggest asset.

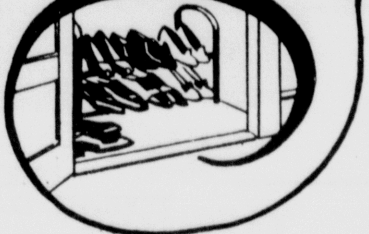

The special interests attached to the GOP did not have to come to a strong party organization for favors. They sat in on the decisions made; in many cases they made the decisions. Since they did not understand politics -- usually they despise it -- they could not see the forest for the trees.

Business influence accomplished tax cuts and tax favors even ahead of the balanced budget it was supposed to cherish. Defense needs, reclamation, public power, the farmers -- these yielded to budget economies. Inflation has certainly been stopped, but when the workers and the farmer look at corporate profits they think they did all the stopping.

Their angry attitudes have apparently panicked the Republicans. It verges upon the pathetic that the Vice President should now be going around, after his party has been two years in power, trying to scare people about Communists in government and a possible "radical" Congress in which the principal Senate committees will be headed by Byrd of Virginia, Finance; George of Georgia, Foreign Relations; Hayden of Arizona, Appropriations; Russell of Georgia, Armed Services; Fulbright of Arkansas, Banking and Currency, and McClellan of Arkansas, Government Operations.

UNDERSTAND HOW TO VOTE? Elmer D. James, responsible for the voting machines in Warren County, invites you to visit the entrance to the Court House and examine the voting machine which is on display there. If you have any questions on the operation of the machine or on the proper voting method, officials of the Warren County Commissioners' office will be pleased to lend their assistance.

MAN'S GREATEST POWER. When you pull the pointer down over your favorite candidate you are exercising the greatest power delegated to man -- the power of self-government. Mr. James here reveals a scene usually witnessed only by those on the election boards -- the tabulating device which keeps a running score of the vote but is opened after the voting is completed. Four hundred separate adding units guarantee the right of self expression to every voter.

PRESIDENT
DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER

vote Republican and you'll vote for "Ike"

Here are some of the accomplishments of "Ike's" Administration -- in just 21 months in office:

- Ended the Korean war, and kept us out of other wars.
- Cut government spending by many billions and made us a stronger nation.
- Brought 10 million more people into Social Security, and upped the benefits for everyone.
- Started a record-breaking highway program that will bring us new and better roads, at less cost to States.
- Rid government of thousands of Communists, and made a real start toward winning the "cold war".
- Laid the groundwork for a sound, safe, prosperous future for you and your children.

Yes, in 21 months "Ike" has gone far to clean up the messes of 20 years--BUT NOW HIS WHOLE PROGRAM IS IN DANGER!

A Democratic victory in this election can stop the progress we've just begun to make, hamstringing all "Ike's" efforts, make us easy prey to our enemies in the Kremlin and in Asia.

That's why "Ike" is asking YOU to vote Republican -- so he can get on with the job YOU gave him to do -- so the plans he has started can be carried out for the lasting benefit of all Americans.

Your vote, every Warren County vote COUNTS! STAND UP for what you believe in. Go to the polls next Tuesday and show your confidence in the Eisenhower Administration.

OUTDOORS

May You Come Home

Back in the days when food was scarce and the gun was brother to the plow, the musket and its single shot was as sacred as a cow.

Men oiled it well and cared for it as though it were a pet, because their one idea was to shoot all they could get.

Under circumstances such as these there might be some excuse, if empty cupboards caused them to mix their moose and goose.

When the tummy rumbled hungry and the gun was in the hand, it no doubt was mighty easy to shoot at all that ran.

With Indians on the warpath and arrows much aje, it took an itchy finger sometimes to keep alive.

Scalps were worth French money and the Red Coats were in town, and pioneering grandpap had no love for any crown.

But there's one thing we are certain the old boy wouldn't do. If you were nice and friendly, he wouldn't shoot at you.

He may have killed more game than the woodlands could provide, but a man can get so hungry he'll even eat the hide.

Today the shelves are loaded with every kind of food, and there are very few among us who cannot feed their brood.

And the gun is light and fancy, with strong powder and fancy shot. If you miss your bird with this one, your aim is not so hot.

You have no empty tummy and there's game enough for all. There's no need to be hasty, there'll be another fall.

If grass moves up ahead, just keep a steady hand. It could be a fat bunny, or it might be just a man.

Don't point at anything you don't intend to shoot. A gun is always loaded in the hands of a galoot.

And just to keep yourself a mite more live than dead, the society of nimrods says its stylish to wear red.

It Starts

And so we come to Saturday when the small game season opens fire in Pennsylvania. Get your license, get a gun, get some red, and get smart. It is a great sport, putting fresh air into your lungs, sun into your hide, and maybe a spot of game meat in your larder. Just see that it doesn't put a shot of lead in the wrong place.

If you have heard this before, stop reading and go ahead and

RECORD BEING REMOVED. Harry Fleckenstein of Oil City is responsible for the temporary installation of the counting machines throughout this area of the state. Actually, the commonwealth is divided into six districts under P. D. Muffley of the Highway Planning Division of Pennsylvania Department of Highways. The accumulated information is used in preparing traffic flow maps which are available to the public at the nominal cost of fifty cents each.

Those with a knowledge of Warren County will recognize that the particular point pictured is the intersection east of Irvine where route 62 crosses the Allegheny river and continues toward Tionesta and Oil City.

Permanent electric eye installations are replacing the type of recorder pictured here in many parts of the state and are scheduled for Warren County as soon as feasible. The closest place where the electric eye type may be examined is New Richmond located just outside Meadville.

Traffic Flow Counted; Highway Needs Revealed

A black hose stretched across the highway with one end attached to a small box is all that the average driver sees of device that may determine the future status of the road on which it is temporarily located. Often mistaken for a speed trap, the piece of equipment is in reality a traffic counter, placed at regular intervals at specific points throughout the state in an effort to record the flow of traffic.

Through the planning division of the Pennsylvania Department of Highways a system was established several years ago to survey the traffic on the highways of the commonwealth. Several control stations were established on representative roads in each county, at which counts have been recorded once or twice per month. The statistics compiled have revealed the extent each road is used.

Two control stations are maintained in Warren County; one is located on Route 62 north of Warren and the other just east of the intersection of Routes 6 and 62. Harry Fleckenstein of Oil City installs the portable equipment once per month for three days as he does at forty-two other points in Forest, Erie, Crawford, Venango, Lawrence, Indiana, Clarion, Armstrong, Mercer, Butler and Jefferson counties.

HOW ERRORS ACCUMULATE. The counters which record the traffic flow on Pennsylvania's highways are estimated to be accurate to .1 percent. The air pressure in the hose activates the counting mechanism once for every two axle crossings. The three-axle truck in the picture will trip the machine to the equivalent of 1 1-2 vehicles.

The black hose across the road has often been mistaken for a speed trap and motorists have destroyed it in their anger. This practice is costly to the taxpayers and causes unnecessary delays in accumulating data.

WORLD ORGANIZATION RECOGNIZED BY DISPLAY. Although generally overlooked by the public, the Warren public library had a display last week to recognize United Nations Day, October 24. Mrs. Edna Swanson arranged the exhibit which included the United Nations flag, flanked with the flags of the sixty member nations, and a copy of President Eisenhower's proclamation.

The President's statement read in part, "This government believes that the United Nations deserves our continued firm support and that its success depends not only on the support given it by its members but equally on that of the people of the member countries".

The traffic counter consists of a mechanism which is powered by a six volt battery at an impulse created by air pressure caused by vehicles crossing the hose. It takes two air impulses or two axle crossings of the hose, to register a vehicle count on the recorder. It has been determined that three-axle trucks cause an error of .1 percent in the total. The equipment has a built-in seven-day clock which actuates a micro switch and stamps the total crossings per hour on a roll of adding machine tape.

The recordings are removed and sent to Harrisburg where they are used to plan highway construction in the distant future, to keep highway traffic flow maps up-to-date, and to evaluate the quality of products used in road building.

Under the illusion that the hose across the road really activates a timing contrivance to trap speeders, many motorists attempt to destroy the ones they encounter. When damage occurs it causes added expense to the department and delays the accumulation of vital information.

TO DETERMINE FUTURE HIGHWAY NEEDS. This close-up reveals the mechanism which counts the vehicles crossing the black rubber hose. The clock prompts the total to be stamped onto a roll of adding machine tape every hour. One actual record disclosed the contrast of seven crossings between the hours of 3 and 4 a. m. and 691 between 5 and 6 p. m. at the busier of the two stations in Warren County.

WELL, GEE. A Warren high school student emulates Liberace, with the help of the band and keys on the backs of the baton twirlers. They then carried him off the field.
